

SHAC met on January 29th, 2015, at 5:30 P.M. The group had copies of the sexually transmitted disease portion of the Worth the Wait curriculum to view. The group also discussed sponsoring a student backpack food program. Michelle Smith, director of food services, is going to look into this further and report her findings at the next meeting. This program would entail sending backpacks with food home with students over the weekend. A member of the group may be involved in previewing potential food service programs for the district.